25,000 patients die annually in the EU as a result of infections caused by resistant bacteria. The European Parliament, the World Health Organization and the European Commission have all recognised that antimicrobial resistance is a growing public health threat. As the Commission begins its evaluation of the Antimicrobial Resistance Action Plan, and in the context of European Antibiotic Awareness Day, this roundtable event will bring key stakeholders together to discuss:

a. What is the current situation of AMR in Europe and beyond?
b. How can the implementation of best practice examples in Europe be achieved?
c. What is missing in current approaches & how can stakeholders work together to better combat AMR?

Keynote speakers:

- Amanda Massey, Executive Director, Health First Europe
- Dominique Monnet, Head of Programme Antimicrobial resistance and healthcare associated infections, European Centre for Disease Prevention and Control
- Herman Goossens, Professor of Microbiology, University of Antwerp

Followed by discussion with roundtable participants

Please rsvp to info@healthfirsteurope.org by 16 November.

Please note that spaces are limited.